

After 14-yr battle, VTU gets Rs 600-plus cr corpus funds back

In 2012-13, I-T dept froze varsity's funds over non-payment of income tax

BENGALURU, DHNS

VTU V-C Vidyashankar S

After 14-year-long battle with the Income Tax (I-T) department, Visvesvaraya Technological University (VTU) has got back Rs 600-plus crore corpus funds seized by the department in 2012-13 for non-payment of Tax.

After a series of court cases, since the seizure of the accounts, VTU finally got a relief using the Right to Information Act (RTI).

In 2012-13, the Income Tax department issued a notice to VTU demanding payment of income tax to the tune of Rs 250 crore since the inception of the university.

The I-T department had claimed that the notice was issued as VTU did not get exemption under 12(a) of the Income Tax Act and argued that the varsity must pay the tax dues.

Though VTU tried to fight

The VTU has taken a decision to deposit the amount at a nationalised bank for a period of 10 years.

it out in the court of law, the I-T department had won the case at every step, including at the Supreme Court and I-T Tribunal.

When the IT department seized the accounts of the VTU over the dues, the corpus fund available with the varsity was Rs 450 crore in various bank accounts.

Corpus fund was the amount earned from examination fees, affiliation fees and the refund received from Karnataka Examinations Authority every year.

The seizure of accounts had caused severe financial trouble for the university all these years. However, a few months ago, Vice-Chancellor Vidyashankar S convened a meeting with the university officials and called for all the files related to the I-T department.

'Appealed again'

"During one such meeting, we got to know that the university had applied for 12(a) exemption in the year 1999. But no documents were available to prove that. Finally we filed an RTI application before the I-T department and got their entry registry for the year 1999," Vidyashankar explained.

He further stated, "There

During one such meeting, we got to know that the university had applied for 12(a) exemption in the year 1999. But no documents were available to prove that. Finally we filed an RTI application before the I-T department and got their entry registry for the year 1999.

we found an entry of our application which was not taken up by the department. Again we appealed before the department along with the proof of our application. Finally, it was considered, we got an exemption and got our money back."

Following the release of accounts, the university placed the matter before the executive council meeting in June and took a decision to deposit the amount for a period of 10 years at a nationalised bank. The university has planned to use the amount earned through interest for salaries for the 11th year.

Teams constituted to inspect colleges

BENGALURU, DHNS

A team of officials from the Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences and Department of Medical Education visited the Karnataka Examinations Authority on Saturday, following complaints that many colleges in which students were allotted seats existed only on paper.

Incidentally, RGUHS had shared the list of colleges that had sought a change of name and address with the government in the month of May. In all, 20 nursing and allied health science colleges had applied for a change of address and name. Furthermore, the Department of Medical Education confirmed that the list had been subsequently shared with the KEA.

The RGUHS and Medical

Education Department officials sought to allay the fears of students and parents, and assured them of resolving the issue.

RGUHS Vice-Chancellor Dr Bhagawan B C convened a meeting with the varsity officials to take stock of the situation.

"In the wake of complaints from students, and reports in the media about missing or ghost colleges, teams were constituted to inspect the colleges on the instructions of the Medical Education minister. It has emerged that the state government approved the change of address for the Hosmat College of Physiotherapy in Bengaluru, and the Masood College of Physiotherapy in Mangaluru, which was communicated to the KEA. However, KEA did not update the address of the colleges, resulting in confusion among the students," said an official from the Medical Education Department.

However, the case of B W Lions Super Specialty Eye

Hospital, which is located off JC Road in Bengaluru, is different. "The college management submitted its seat matrix to RGUHS, and gave no hint of its inability to offer the programme. However, after the seat matrix was finalised and students were allotted seats in the college, the college informed us that it would not be able to offer the course. This is inexcusable. After an inspection, we will take action against the college, and submit a report to the government on Monday," the official added.

A team was also dispatched to the Sushrutha Nursing College for inspection. Although a college exists at the address mentioned, the college has not admitted any students for the last one year. The staff at the college said that they had tied up with another institution, to which the students were being sent. A probe will be ordered against the management of the college and a report submitted to the government, confirmed the official.
